Abacus Solutions LLC

We are a group of University professionals who teach computer based classes on an every day basis. We use cutting edge techniques to give you the best information and instruction possible. We keep on top of new developments in the world of computers and strive to bring you the latest and best information to make your company or organization the leader in its field.

Abacus Solutions LLC specializes in the following types of services:

► Custom employee and management training

We teach the use of common operating systems, and office software. The training programs can be offered at your companies site.

► System Consulting We carefully research the market for the appropriate hardware and software packages to efficiently and economically get the job done.

► System Design If you need a special custom computer system, Abacus Solutions LLC will carefully design the hardware and software to meet your specific needs.

► Web Site Design - We can create a professionally designed web site for your company or organization.

► Ecommerce Consulting - We can create a web site to sell your products or services on the web. We can also integrate the web site with your accounting , marketing , sales and customer relations management .

We meet the needs of your business or organization

► We DO NOT sell Computer Software

Software is the computer product that tells the computer what to do in a given situation. There is a lot of software out there. Some of it's good, and some of it's bad. What's good in one situation, may not be good in another . Since we don't sell Software, we don't make a profit in selling one brand over another. We only recommend what is the best for your situation. We will tell you several places to purchase the software that is best for you. We will show you price quotes from several vendors.

► We DO NOT sell Computer Hardware

Hardware is the part of the computer science equation that you can feel and touch. This is your printer, your monitor and your central processing unit. There are some companies out there selling equipment that won't meet your needs. We have no vested interest in your buying from one or the other. We don't make any money on any brand we recommend. We will recommend only what is best for you, not what is best for the pockets of a vendor with a monthly sales quota to meet. We want you to have the best hardware available for your budget and requirements. We work for you, not for the hardware manufacturer.
